Helping people living with dementia safely manage their everyday spending

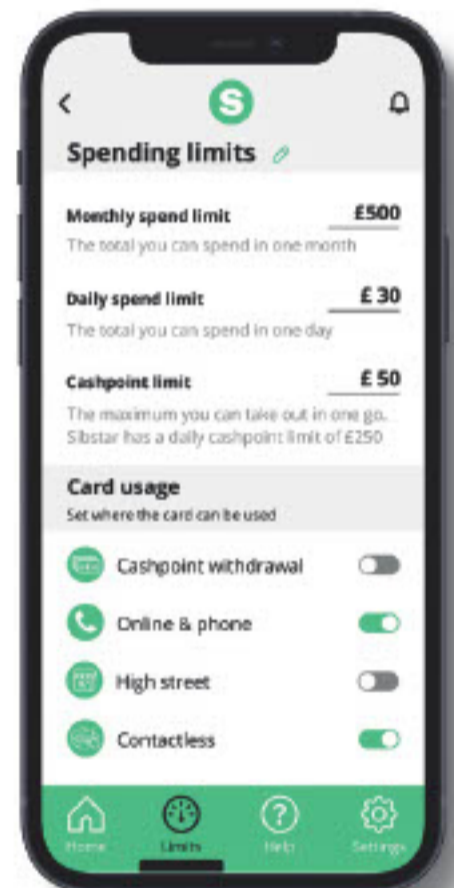

"I live with dementia and a burning desire to watch live music"

What we spend our money on is a big part of who we are. The hobbies we do, the gifts we buy, meeting friends for coffee. This doesn't need to change just because you have dementia.

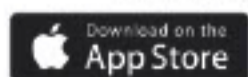

But managing everyday money can become difficult. So we created Sibstar - a debit card and app that helps families manage their spending.

Load the Sibstar card with money then, in the app, set how and where that money can be spent. All the functions can be changed instantly, so Sibstar adapts to you.
